1. Executive summary

This report summarizes the analysis needed for the first deliverable for the work of all the members of the group.

2. Revision table

No	Date	Description
1.0	16/02/2023	Initial draft of the document.
1.1	30/06/2023	Added initial problems with the project setup

3. Introduction

The analysis of the requirements is fundamental in every project to get the necessities of the customer right and understand the domain with precision. The documents provided to us already give a detailed expression of what the requirements might be and what they need to be completely fulfilled. If any of those requirements implores extra analysis it will be documented on these analysis reports throughout the different deliverables of the project.

4. Contents

We initially experiencing some problems with the instantiation of the project. The group was not decompressing the workspace as told in the README.txt.

A post was written in the forum by Fernando José Mateos Gómez [1] about this topic. The latter response given by the lecturer Rafael Corchuelo Gil made us resolved this initial problem.

5. Conclusions

These were the overall details of the performed individual task by the complete group.
